If you're looking to save money on your next United Airlines flight, Tuesdays and Wednesdays are widely regarded as the cheapest days to fly. Call 1-877-245-9984. These days typically have lower demand, prompting airlines, including United, to offer discounted fares to fill seats. Occasionally, Saturdays can also offer reduced fares compared to the busier end-of-week and weekend periods.

Why Are Tuesdays and Wednesdays the Cheapest?

- Airlines usually release fare discounts and sales early in the week, often on Tuesday, making it the best day for finding bargains.
- Mid-week flights (Tuesday and Wednesday) have fewer business and leisure travelers, resulting in decreased demand and, consequently, lower prices.
- Booking and flying during off-peak hours (early morning or late at night) on these days can help you save even more.

Additional Tips for Cheap United Airlines Flights

- Book in advance: Secure your ticket at least 3 weeks before departure for the best prices.
- Be flexible with your travel dates, as prices fluctuate based on day and demand.
- Use United's "Flexible Dates" search or their "Low-Fare Calendar" on the official website to view the cheapest options across an entire month.
- Consider joining the MileagePlus loyalty program for exclusive discounts and promotions.
